This is Our Story

1949—In Memphis down in Dixie,—in Memphis on the Mississippi, stands Central, one of nine public high schools. At times we are champions—always we are in there fighting. Our student body numbers about 1,100, of whom 79% go on to college each year. We are Memphis' oldest high school, built in 1909. But our story goes back—much further back—back to the great year 1848, for that year FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS were established in Memphis.

IT TAKES A HUNDRED YEARS

To Colonel J. W. A. Petit, father of free public schools in Memphis, in appreciation of his untiring efforts to this end.

On this centennial of public schools, we at Central plan to show our gratitude to those enlightened men who made possible the humble but proud beginning of free schools. In 1848 a charter provided for free schools for the white, setting aside for this purpose $\frac{1}{8}$ of annual revenues. In spite of violent opposition men of vision, led by Colonel Petit, worked long and hard without pay to prove the worth of such a radical idea. They looked to the day when all citizens would be alive to the necessity of equipping their children with an education. The efforts of these enlightened men have been rewarded. Schools have come a long way! Starting with four rented rooms, we now have fifty-four well-equipped buildings, attended by 46,000 pupils. One third of the city's income goes for their upkeep. In this yearbook, we propose to show life in a modern high school of 1949 in appreciation of that first school in 1849.

Dreams Come True—Mr. R. E. King, Principal, goes over plans for the new gym with Mydelle Lane and Porter McClean, Editor and Business Manager of the Year Book, and Horace Branch, Captain of the '49 basketball team.

Busy Community—Such A School Is Central

TODAY'S HIGH SCHOOL is a busy community where qualified teachers and self-disciplined students work together in pleasant surroundings with adequate equipment to develop fine scholarship, strong leadership, unselfish service, and integrity of character . . . such a school is Central.

ROUND UP OF TARDIES—From the office, nerve center of our school, Misses Margaret Kenny and Clara Hazen, secretaries, coordinate and synchronize 1100 students into a smoothly run unit. They phone if we are absent; weigh our excuses; keep our records; and heartily render friendly advice and assistance.

Students Assume School's Responsibility And

THE SCHOOL BELL, another electrical servant, is set to work by Donald Snipes and Grady Sanders. Only two minutes remain before they press the button that will release anxious students from their tense waiting.

QUIET in the halls is maintained by an efficient monitorial staff, sponsored by the Student Government. Billy Fortas listens unconvinced to Jerrie Evjen's reasons for being late to class. Not good enough, Jerrie. We'll see you in court.

OFFICE WORK, calling absentees, distributing mail, checking absentee lists, and other secretarial duties, are done by an efficient group. Standing are: Wear, Gegan, Rosselot, Morgan, Pope, Trotter; Seated: Busby, Robinson, Moore.

BOOK STORE profits go for college scholarships. Clerks at the window, Gloria King and Betty Jo Higgins, wait on fellow clerks: Kirchdorfer, Rollow, Mattice, Leftwich, Grinter, Bryant, Houston, Plesofsky, Goodall.

Actively Participate in Community Projects

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK—We entered posters in city-wide contest; first prize was won by Joyce Reynolds.

ACTIVE "POLITICIANS" back their candidates with buttons, speeches, and posters. Nov. 3, Dewey poster came down fast!

SPORTING BIG RED FEATHERS are Archer, Busch, Lita Gibbs, and Kirchdorfer, leaders of a successful Community Chest Drive.

MARCH OF DIMES Campaign netted $121.95. Peggy and Darlene are glad all those dollars aren't dimes!

VALENTINE FAVORS FOR KENNEDY Hospital were made by the art department at the request of the Junior Red Cross. Artists are Chandler, Fischer, Bache, Thomas.

THE BLIND GAME parade was entered enthusiastically by Centralites in convertibles with flying colors.

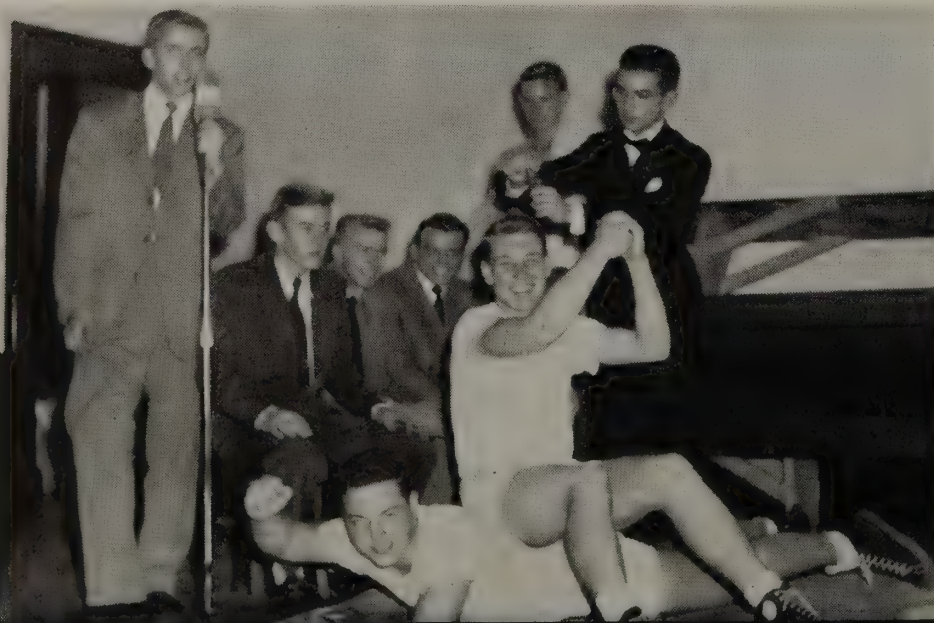

And Are Off on Conventions, Trips, Campaigns

EN ROUTE to NSPA Convention of High School Journalists at French Lick are editors and business managers of the WARRIOR: McClean, Kahn, Schrader, Law, Bowling, Lane, Hinz.

"ALL ABOARD for the SASG Convention at Mobile, Alabama!" say Delegates Bill Allen, Peggy Morgan, and Nat Dillon—Nat won 2nd prize as prettiest delegate.

OUT OF TOWN TRIPS are high points on the athletic schedule. This bus load is about to leave for Clarksdale.

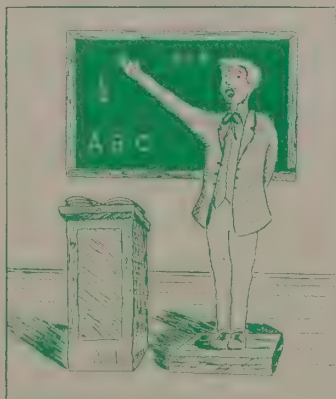

INGENIOUS MANAGERS stage aggressive campaigns in Student Government elections. Candidates are selected by Nominating Conventions of home room delegates. To be elected president is the highest honor any student can win, for in his and his cabinet's hands is the good name of Central.

Gorgeous George's weight goes to Gold ticket.

1949's Friendliest, Nat Dillon, Brady Bartusch; Most Talented, Greta Graham, Kyle Creson.

1849—Friday afternoons—Youthful Patrick Henrys de-claimed “Give me liberty” and spelling champions up- held their reputations in matches to the pleasure and edification of visiting parents, friends, and members of the Board of Visitors. These oratorical contests and spelling bees were the only extra- curricular activities that relieved the weekly grind. Students came to study—studied—went home—that’s all. No student government developed a sense of responsibility; no clubs offered opportunities to make friends, learn, and have fun at the same time. “All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy,” was NOT the idea in 1849.

Citizens of Tomorrow Get Practice Today

UNDER THE SPLENDID LEADERSHIP of Bill Leftwich and Brady Bartusch the Student Government has functioned smoothly. They revised the constitution, published the "Hello Central" (edited by Bill Mieher), and reorganized the monitor system and courts for greater efficiency. This group also improved auditorium programs, bought a new trophy case, sent delegates to the SASG convention in Mobile, and raised funds for Polio and Community Chest drives. Sponsors: Misses L. Mauzy, Green.

Honor Society

SEVENTY-NINE PER CENT of Central graduates attend college and some find too late that their high school courses have not fulfilled the necessary requirements for admission. With this in mind the members inducted in 1948 ordered catalogs from a hundred colleges and universities throughout the country. Entrance requirements from each institution were listed and put on file. Now students may find out in advance and adjust their schedule to these courses.

On Floor: Forrester, Rosselot, Shainberg, Goodall, Wilkinson, Scott. Back Row: Morgan, Rackley, Stern, Leftwich, Liddell, Law, Houston, Andrews, Wallis, Jones.

Shining Examples of Central's Motto Rewarded

THE SLX CHAPTER of the National Honor Society advances ideals of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Membership, based on these cardinal points, is open to the upper 5% of the juniors and upper 10% of the seniors. The society counts votes in major elections, awards banners each six weeks to the home rooms outstanding in scholarship and in improvement, and on Honors Day presents ribbons to term honor roll students. They maintain an active Lost and Found Department.

All-American

Deadlines, copy, cuts, galleys, ad quotas, are familiar terms to red hot news hounds. For 1948 the WARRIOR has been rated: SUPERIOR, U.T. Press Assn.; FIRST RATING, C.S.P.A.; ALL-AMERICAN, N.S.P.A.

The Paul Flowers chapter of Quill and Scroll, International Honor Society for high school journalists, initiated eighteen outstanding journalists with high scholastic rating.

No Forty-Niner Worked Harder For Gold

Hard work and fun joined hands to publish your 1949 yearbook. Staffs rushed madly to meet deadlines, working amid piles of copy and pink sheets, pencil stubs, glue bottles, discarded flash bulbs, and the dilapidated typewriter. Home rooms plodded through their ad campaigns, while subscriptions sold to beat 60. Without Miss Hamilton's art department, Miss Crenshaw's and Mrs. Guthrie's cooperative typists, and the energetic efforts of Miss Jones, this yearbook would not be in your hands now.

Indispensable

COPY EDITORS Janice and Anne measured headlines and word count; Gus and Art Editor Betty Jo designed the cover; Jo Nell and Wayne drew the Map of Memphis, and Paul, the clever cartoons.

Artists Find Wide Range of Club Interests

FOUNDATION of extra-curricular activities are clubs the bases of friendship and mutual interest. Here artists, actors, and musicians find outlets for their talent.

ARTS AND CRAFTS aim for better appreciation and working experience in the field of art. New projects have been weaving rugs, wood-carving, and ceramic sculpture. President, Ann Wood; Sponsor, Miss Hamilton.

While Technical Geniuses Develop Talents

THERE is a club to suit every taste. Each has its faculty sponsor and definite interest. Photographers, scientists, typists advance their knowledge and learn by error.

CAMERA CLUB'S motto is "learn by every error." The club maintains its own dark room and hopes next year to have a more active group.

Members: Stewart, Hoyt, Manis, Walton, Berg, Buxton, Cantrell, (Pres.) Smith, Beard, Bowers, Deupree, Barton.

SCIENCE CLUB to advance their knowledge have group discussions, experimental demonstrations, and movies. Field trips were made to Humko, Plough Chemical, Durra Plastics, and Endocrinological Clinic. President, Jo Ann Randle; Sponsor, Mr. Simpson.

Seated — Dupree, Poduska, Spellman, Bryant, Trusty, Wilkinson, Scott, Parker, Sides, Barton. Standing — Deaton, Schaeffer, Harris, Feldman, Wendt, Forrester, Mattice, Turner, Mr. Simpson, Randle, Blacklock.

Jr. Red Cross

JUNIOR RED CROSS members, assisted by their home-rooms, packed 50 Christmas boxes for needy overseas children this year. The club not only collected ash trays, vases, and comics, but also presented entertaining programs at Kennedy Veterans' Hospital. For special holidays they enlisted the Art Department to make favors and menus for hospital trays at Kennedy. President, Donald Snipes; Sponsors, Misses Raines, Young.

Y-Teens

PROMOTING FRIENDSHIP AND FUN as its objective, Central's Y-Teen group is the youngest of the school's many organizations. On the Y pin is a globe, symbolizing the club's international scope. Members have heard speakers on current youth problems, and have sent a basketball team to compete against other Y-Teen groups in the city. At Christmas the group participated in a pageant, sang carols, and hung holly wreaths. In an inter-council fashion show planned to raise money for the World Fellowship Fund, members acted as hostesses, and modeled clothes from Halle's. They plan to attend the Y-Teen summer camp at Hardy. President, Marilyn Ashburn; Sponsor, Miss James.

H Club Line-up

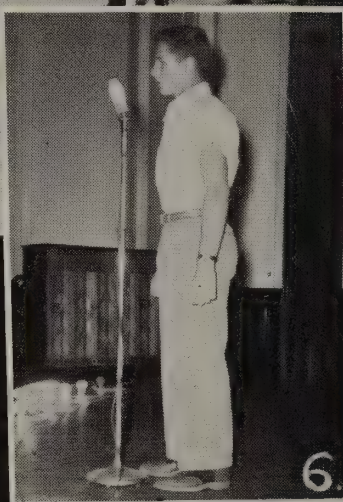

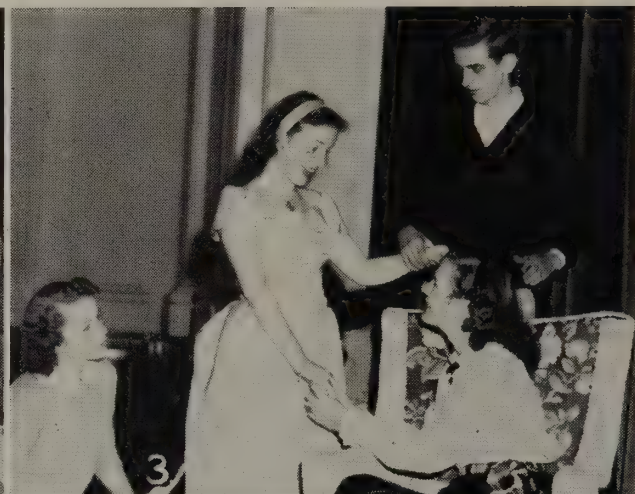

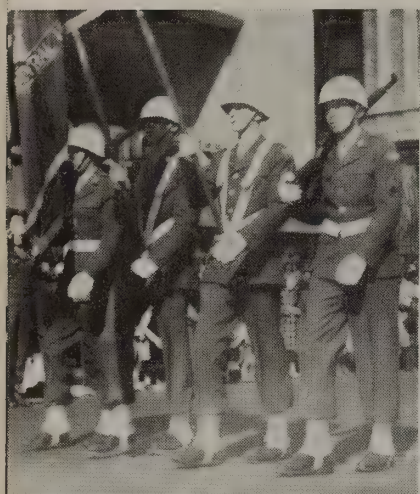

H CLUB MEMBERS have won their coveted letter by outstanding participation in one of the four major sports—football, basketball, baseball, and track. The letter "H" is a tradition from the time when Central was the one high school in Memphis—hence "H". The club promotes better relationship between participants in the various sports and encourages clean sportsmanship. Sponsor: Coach Ruffner Murray.

H CLUB—Seated Row 1: Foster, Bender, Allen, Leftwich, Roe, Branch, Smith, Elam, Johnson. Row 2: Peters, Hawkes, Gilbert, Towner, Burton, Speaker, Fisher, Droke, Miller, Creson, Billings, Nicholson. Row 3: Lammey, Keathley, Cooke, Dillon, Mitchell, Alexander, Hurt, Latimer, Blumenfield, Waddey. Back: Kaplan (Mgr.), Dunn, Britt, Langschmidt, Ray, Willis, Campbell, Heyboer, Liddell, Benson, Mathis, Watson, Coffman (Mgr.)

1949's Most Likely to Succeed, Darlene Stiller and Frank Liddell.

1849—Off to the war! was the cry just three years ago. Regiments of eager Memphians—the Blues, the Eagles, the Guards—had followed the Stars and Stripes—26 stars, that is—to the Mexican War where Lee and Grant were fighting side by side. Like Vigilantes of a later day, the Guards and the Blues had organized in 1843 to assist reform Mayor William Spickernagle in bringing law and order to their rowdy river town. These determined citizens marched on the 2,000 irate flat-boatman tied up at the wharf who had boldly defied the Mayor's orders, for a time it seemed the town might be destroyed. Thus law came to Memphis.

THE CORE OF THE BATTALION in military activities, the staff issues all orders and regulations concerning the entire unit. Daily company competition, neatness cadet competition, attendance, and maintenance of equipment are handled by this group.

Central Does Its Part For Preparedness

CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION has been emphasized this year more than ever before. Under the capable adult supervision of Capt. W. E. Badger, St/sgt. I. B. Morton, M/sgt. J. S. Tettinger, M/sgt.

V. B. Blomquist the cadets have been instructed in scouting and patrolling, small unit tactics, aerial map-reading, military history, interior guard duty, and the functioning and actual disassembly of weapons.

CEREMONIAL PARADE gives the cadet corps its share of drill in addition to regular classroom instruction. During the week at the regular military periods there is company, platoon, and squad drill, while each Thursday at parade period, the entire battalion participates in a ceremonial parade. At this time the staff selects an honor company for the week.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE, when Central's entire Battalion and Band compete with those of other schools for honors, is another of the most important events of the R.O.T.C. year. Cadets are graded on attendance, appearance, and marching ability. Pictured are Lt. Col. Sanders, Arlene Becker, Capt. Mieher, Mydelle Lane, Maj. Liddell, Nan Hassler.

CEREMONIAL FIRING SQUADS render a serious service to the community and the country by serving at military funerals of returned war dead in the Memphis area. Four of these squads, one from each company, have been organized at Central, in conjunction with the units of the other city schools. The cadet corps is proud to perform such a duty.

Warrior Band Steps Out In That New Look

AT LAST, Central has a band suitable for more than R.O.T.C., a band with smart new uniforms for pep meetings, games, and parades. This change is due to the untiring efforts of S/sgt. Ira B. Morton, band director, and Mr. King and to the financial backing of the P.T.A. and the alumni. The entire school was sorry to see S/sgt. Morton transferred by the Army. We hope someday to have the fine band for which he was working.

Sgt. Morton, Poole and Sutherin (leaders in Xmas card sale) smile as Warrior Mgrs. McClean and Kahn, along with P.T.A. president, Mrs. M. M. Mattice, present Mr. King checks for band uniforms.

S P O R T S

1949's Most Athletic, Anne Langschmidt and Carl Roe.

1849 —Deplorably unathletic were the schools—no organized sports—no yells—no cheerleaders. The 1870's would see the beginning of football in college, but not the game we know—to touch the ball with the hands was illegal. No pads, no equipment, not even uniforms were worn. Since rules were uncertain, the game usually ended in a free-for-all. Baseball was introduced in 1859. Memphis youth saw a bit of cock-fighting, horse racing, and an occasional duel. Boys played hockey to hunt deer and even bear on Main Street almost in front of the Gayoso. As for girls' sports—the idea would have shocked the fragile lassies of '49.

GUARDS — Bobby Willis and Jack Follin open a hole for tail-back Dick Foster during a practice drill.

END—Chuck Bender high steps it over Johnny Johnson and David Speaker on an end around in the closely contested Tech game. Bender, a fine broken field runner, kept Central in many games with his wide end skirts.

Coaches, Managers, Players, Combine Talents

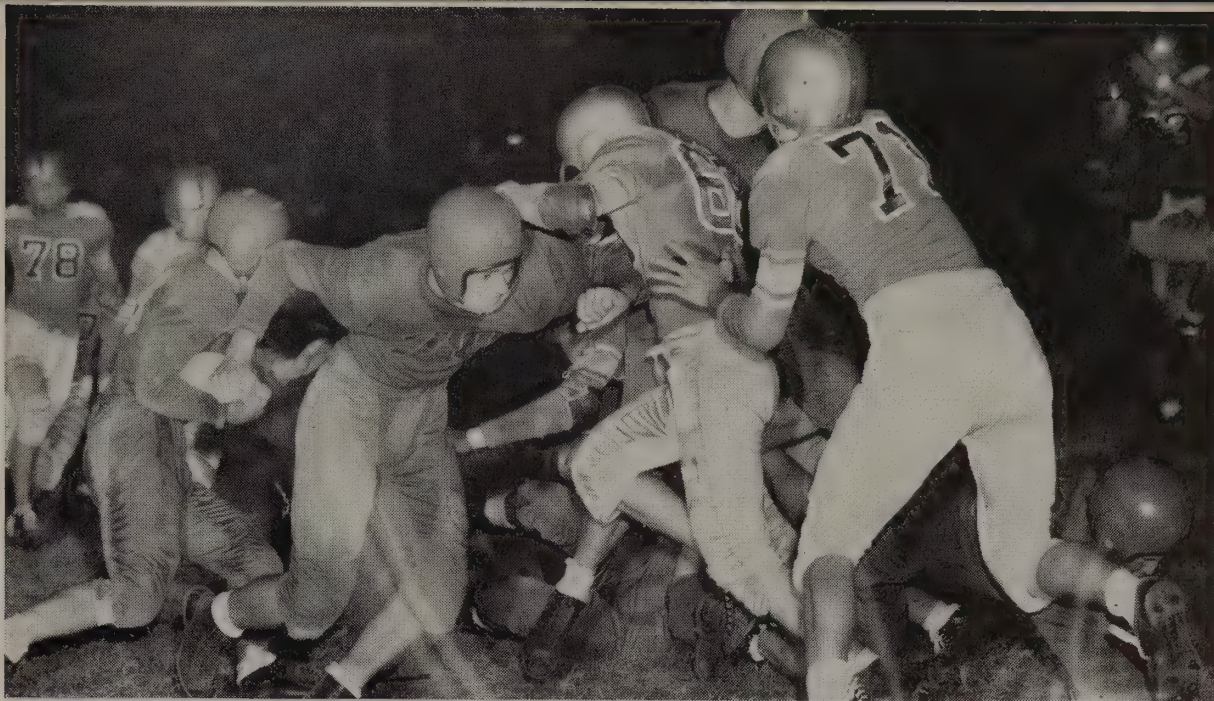

THE BRAIN TRUST—Coaches Wray Williams, Ruffner Murray (headcoach) Rick Mays, Lloyd McDougal, Lewis Polk seem quite confident of Murray's new trick play.

WORK BEHIND THE LINE—Managers Wells, Kaplan, Hess, Coffman spend a delightful afternoon cleaning, polishing, etc.

QUARTERBACK—
James Elam leads interference through a host of players in the heartbreaking Humes game. Score: 6-13.

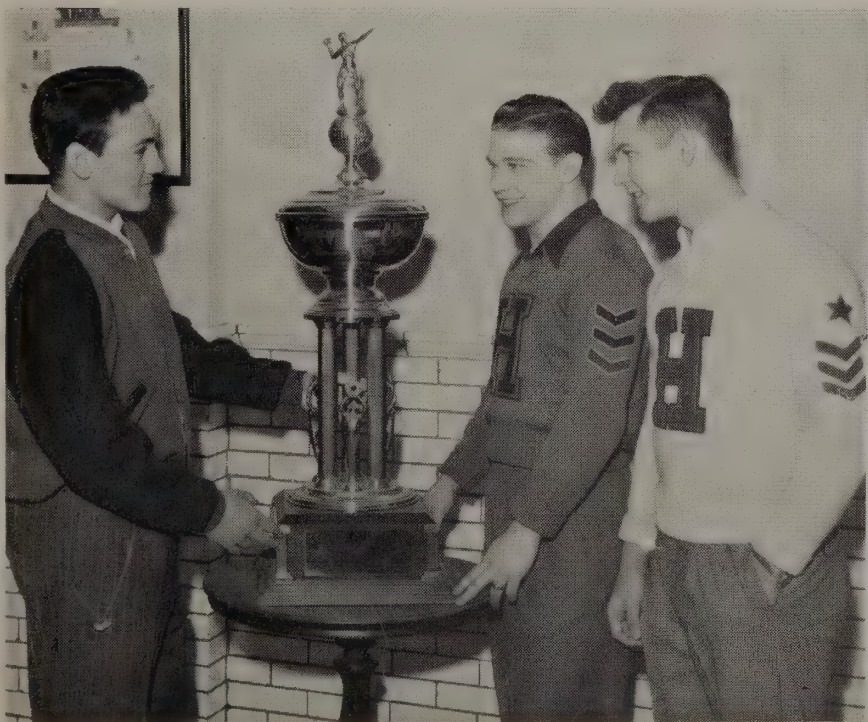

THE WORK IS OVER — Footballers enjoy the banquet honoring lettermen. After Coach Murray had presented the letters, a technicolor movie of the well-executed Messick affray was shown.

— End Season with Festivities and Honors

BILL WATSON'S name goes on the Goldstein Trophy, annual award to outstanding lineman. Foster, All-Mfs. tailback, and Leftwich, voted outstanding player, congratulate Bill.

CENTRAL-19—MESSICK-0—Warrior Captain, Snooky Smith, and Panther Captain, Bags Brenner, meet at midfield to flip for kickoff.

Team, Cheered on in Defeat, Played Fine Ball

CHEERLEADERS, Trained by Miss Siegman, aroused the finest school spirit in Central for years. Unsurpassed in coordination and finesse.

Kneeling: Derrick, Deloach; Standing: Koen, Watkins, Hobson, Coldren, Lewis, (Captain), Pope, Tallent, Moise.

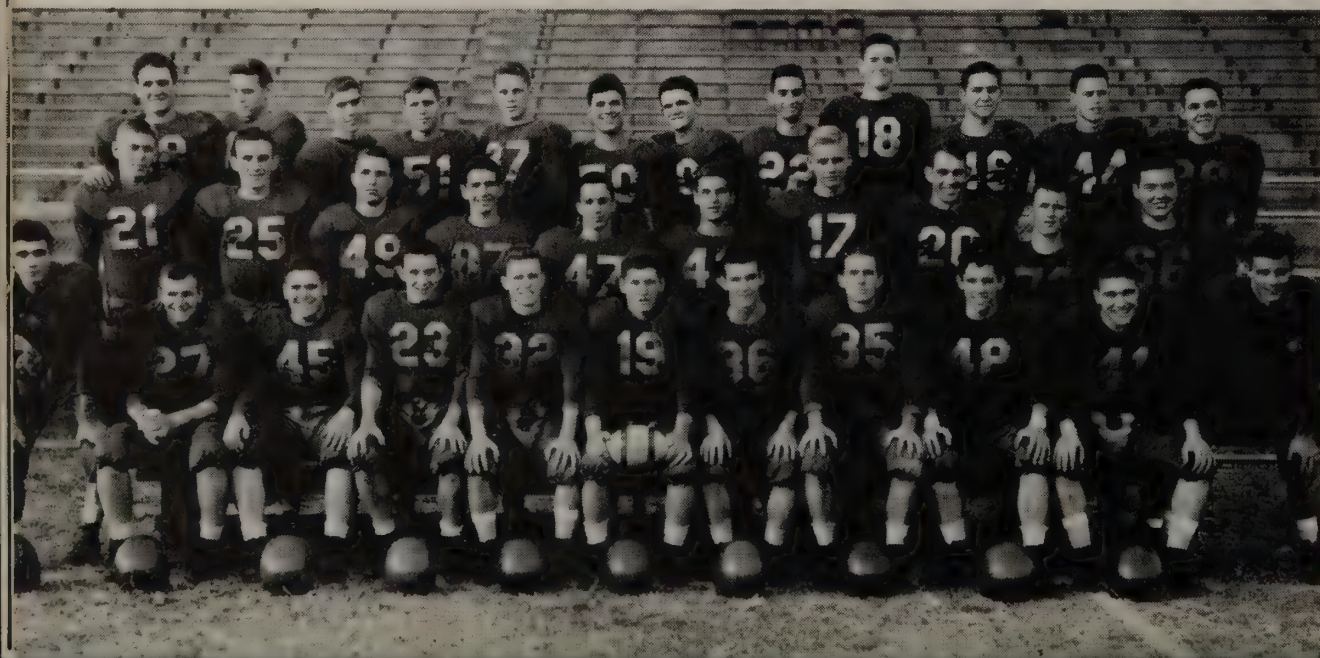

BIG CHIEF—Capt. Gene Lewis and squad ready to whoop it up.

THE PERENNIALY POTENT WARRIORS enjoyed only a mediocre season on the gridiron and were forced to share fourth place in the prep league standings with the South Side Scrappers, a spot unfamiliar to Central. Although the Warriors played hard every game and suffered many close, heartbreaking defeats, they did not begin to hit on all eleven cylinders until the final game with the powerful Messick Panthers. In this last game of the season, the Warriors displayed the power and finesse which had lain dormant most of the year. Their defeat of the highly touted, power-laden Messick crew was the highlight of the season.

This great upset was engineered chiefly by the churning legs of Dick Foster, our hard-running tailback who won a berth on the Commercial-Appeal All-Memphis squad; and the sterling line play of Bill Watson, winner of the Paul Goldstein Memorial Trophy as Central's outstanding lineman and a first string tackle position on the Press-Scimitar All-Memphis. In three non-league games the Warriors did not fare much better. They were scalped by a powerful team from Louisville, Ky., 31-7, and fell before Clarksdale High 19-3. They redeemed themselves partially by trampling Chattanooga 32-0.

ANXIETY ON THE BENCH—The boys on the bench, as they urge on their teammates, fight as hard as those on the field in the surprise Messick game.

THE BOXING TEAM, after whipping themselves into fine shape, entered the squared circle rated underdogs. The lighter boys although they displayed plenty of heart were eliminated in very close fights; the heavier fighters, Manis and Elam, produced great upset wins over May and Bell of Humes.

Warriors Remain Undefeated in Prep League

COACH RUFFNER MURRAY began basketball this season with dismal hopes. Only a few varsity men were returning, and he had to develop his team from these and members of last year's B team. Returning lettermen were captain Horace Branch, alternate captain Carl Roe, Chuck Bender, Joe Heyboer, and Dick Foster. Up from the B team to shine as varsity players were Carl Langschmidt, Louis Britt, Bill Leftwich, Frank Benson, Bill Allen, and Rodney Dunn. Langschmidt developed into the offensive star, scoring more than 500 points during the season; Britt and Leftwich became the team's scrappiest guards.

THE WARRIOR BASKETEERS were the first team in many years to complete its prep league season undefeated. From a team given a slight chance for success the Warriors progressed into a fast-breaking, accurate-shooting aggregation. They averaged over 50 points a game while holding the opposition below 50. In their pre-season encounters, getting an even break with Kentucky and Tennessee opposition, the Warriors failed to impress anyone. When the conference opened, however, the basket bombers repeatedly bowled over all opposition and at the halfway mark were considered cinches for the title.

Tournament Competition Proves Disastrous

CINCHING THE CHAMPIONSHIP, the Warriors, aided by Langschmidt's 28 points and a prep record, routed the highly rated Messick Panthers, for the second time in a fast and exciting fray. Langschmidt, one of the highest scorers Central has produced, was chosen on both the Press-Scimitar and the Commercial-Appeal All-Memphis. Joe Heyboer, a stellar ace on the backboards, was chosen on the Commercial-Appeal All-Memphis.

TOURNAMENT PLAY proved disastrous to the potent Warriors, who fell before C.B.C., 40-39, in the finals of the District 2 tournament. Hampered by Langschmidt's injured leg, the Warriors again lost to C.B.C. in the finals of the Unit I tournament. The loss of Branch and Heyboer's injured ankle slowed down the Warriors in the West Tennessee tournament, and they were knocked off in the semifinals by the Humboldt Rams, who captured the state title.

STUDENT LEADERS—

Calling the roll, officiating at games, assisting in class are all in the day's work for Miss Selma Siegman's student leaders. To be selected for this position a girl must be cooperative, friendly, dependable and self-reliant; to hold it she must maintain a "B" average.

Today's Gym Girls Coordinate Mind and Body

AN ENLARGED PROGRAM is in the offing for the Girl's Physical Education Department next year. With more space, Miss Seigman will be able to expand her classes, heretofore limited to 600 pupils. Activities will be of wider variety with more basketball and volleyball and more calisthenics. Future Centralites can look forward to fulfilling state requirements with three full years of physical education.

"Bend, twist, touch toes." With the greatest of ease under the alert eyes of Miss Siegman, 600 girls learn good posture. McCall, Newman, and Boone show how.

High in the air goes Ann Langschmidt returning the ball to the opposing side in a friendly game of volleyball, one of the varied indoor sports enjoyed all year.

First Aiders Learn to Remedy Aches, Pains

SAVE MY CHILD!
Members of the class demonstrate first aid. Their victim is Jean Schiff; demonstrators: Copeland, Starr, Backe, Loskove, and Terrell.

FIRST AID CLASSES are offered to every girl at Central. To be able to prevent common accidents and especially to avoid further injury in case of accident are reasons any girl should want to take the course. One learns to give artificial respiration, to distinguish red, white, and blue unconsciousness, and to locate the five pressure points. Those who successfully complete the course receive First Aid Certificates from the National Red Cross.

HEADACHES, pains or injuries—sympathetic monitors trained in first aid are always ready to care for students who are ill or injured. Solicitious nurses care for patients: Mullins, Norcott, Hassler, Barnett, Julian, and Carson.

Dances and Skits Are Added Attractions

GRACEFUL SENIORS, in old-fashioned costumes did the quadrille at the Fair last September in the Centennial Pageant celebrating free schools in Memphis. Dancers are Ivy, Barnett, Singleton, Langschmidt, Evjen, Lemmon, Hinz, and Ashburn.

ROARING APPROVAL, students at the pep meeting enjoyed a pantomime of the Messick football game the following night, acted out by girls in football uniforms. This was one of the skits put on by the cheerleaders and gym girls last fall.

TENNIS TEAM selected in recent eliminations to swing their racquets for Central: standing: Coach Lewie Polk, George Ragland, Clark Garrecht, Billy Satterfield; kneeling: Kyle Creson, Bill Leftwich, Wray Williams.

SWINGING their brassies every Saturday morning for Central are Carl Langschmidt, William Morehead, Ed Campbell and Hillman Robbins, shown displaying the form that makes him the prep's leading golfer.

CINDER STARS who have led Central through many victorious track meets are Eugene Mathes, distance runner; Chuck Bender, captain and hurdle ace, and John L. Ray, sprint standout.

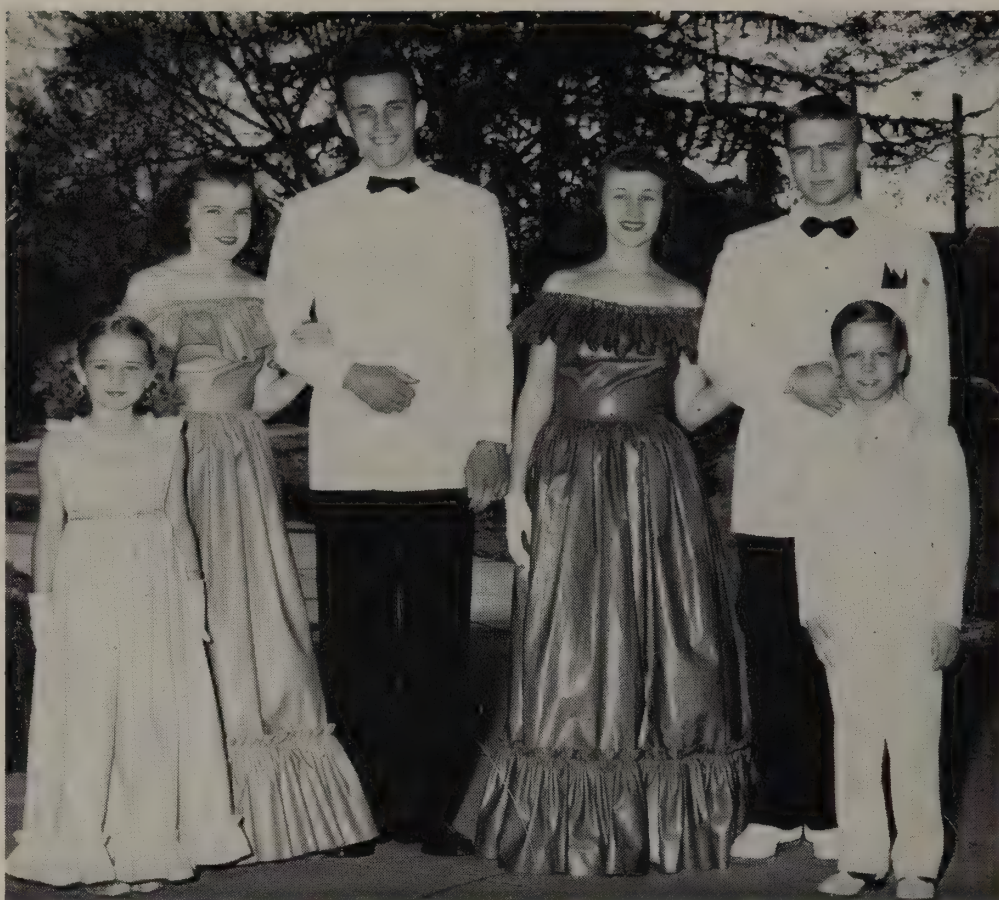

Sure Signs of Springtime Are in the Air

AS TRADITIONAL as vivid spring flowers is the colorful Cotton Carnival in which every Memphis school is represented by a Duke, Duchess and attendants. Darlene, Robert, Peggy, and Brady, Central's royalty, attended the Ball given especially for the younger set.

Another sign of spring is the dust which rises under the scrimmaging feet of gridiron hopefuls as they work out in the first spring practice.

Springtime is basketball time in girls' gym classes, and sportsmanship is the keyword of the closely contested intramurals.

THE SIX SHOOTERS won the Girls' Intramural Championship. Silver basketballs were awarded for sportsmanship and ability. Standing: Semmons, Capt. Coldren, Jacobson; center: Smith, Sandford; kneeling: Barnett, Locket.

THE 1949 TEAM is shaping up well in spring practice. Coach Murray hopes to field a formidable aggregation from the new timber and the returning lettermen. If sore muscles and long hours of practice mean anything, the boys should be League Champions next fall.

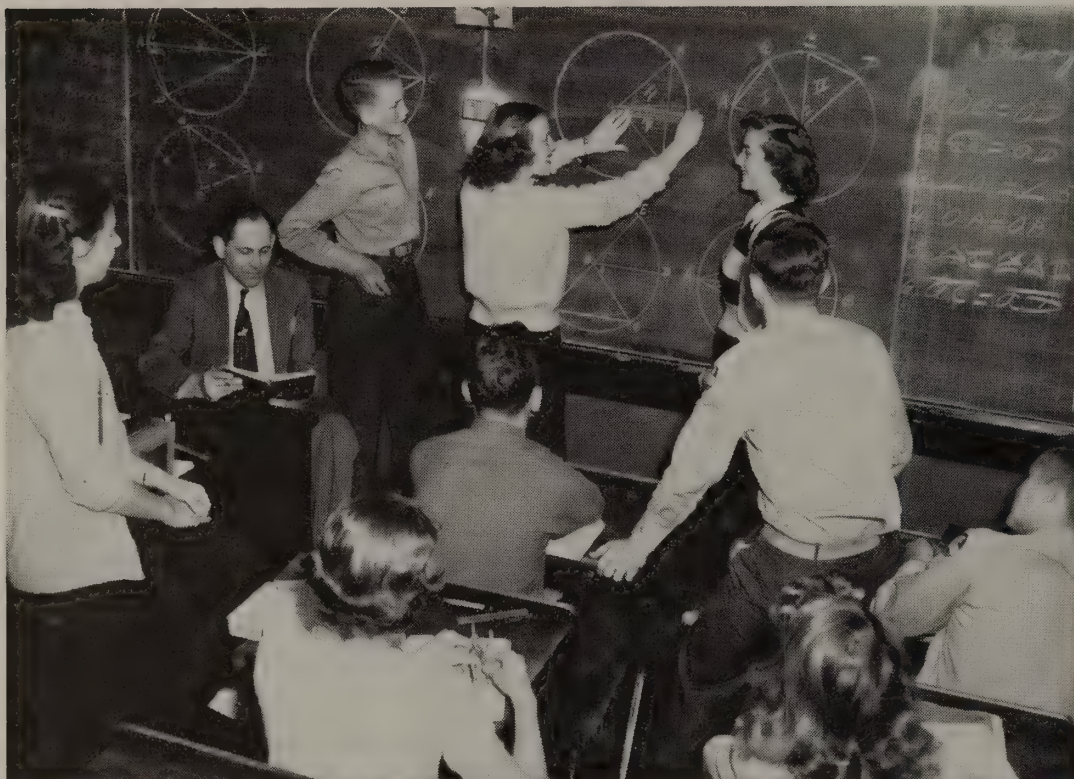

1949's Most Intellectual, Carolyn Rosselot, Hall Jones; Wittiest, Billy Fisher, Ann Humphreys.

1849—Portrait of a school—visualize one rented room above the fire house, fifty pupils of all ages squirming on hard benches, one stern school master brandishing his hickory switch. An humble beginning was this first free public school. Unsanitary, unattractive rooms caused much truancy. Pupils used a community drinking cup—germs had not yet been discovered. Standard textbooks were unknown. Salaries were poor—$600 per year for men; $400 for women. First hint of progress came in 1852 when a grading system was devised. Soon after a Board of Visitors was organized to inspect the schools and to give oral examinations.

THREE R's: MUCH MORE — BUT NO LONGER

"SCHOOLS OF 1848"—a skit in the pageant celebrating the Anniversary. Albert looks on as Connie discusses how Hoyt is a distraction.

"MAYBE YOU CAN explain it to 'em," says Mr. Wharton, as he lets Anne Gilbert show his bewildered pupils how to prove a theorem.

"DO, MI, DO," chants Mr. Hawke trying to produce harmony with this group of tomorrow's radio singers and movie stars.

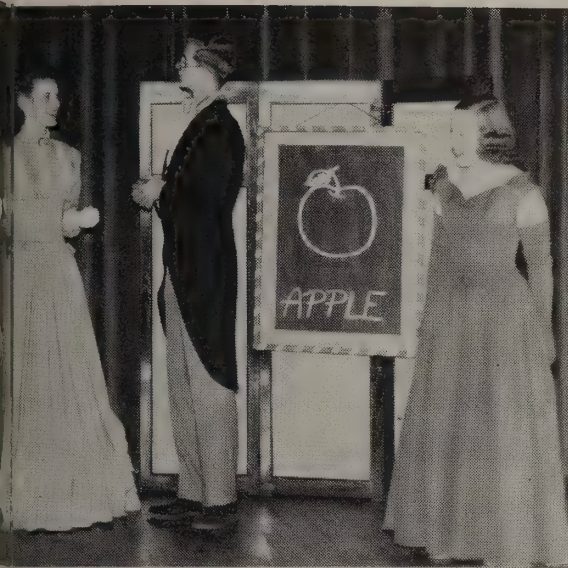

CLAY MODELING is one branch of our growing art department. Miss Hamilton is training the fingers which may sculpture great masterpieces of art.

Sciences Lay Bare the Mysteries of Nature

BIOLOGY students peer through microscopes to learn the secrets of micro-organisms. Miss Dorothy Green supervises as scientists record their discoveries.

CHEMISTRY WHIZZES watch grimly as Robert Gracy mixes the ingredients of two unmarked bottles. Who knows what next!

THE MYSTERIES OF SOUND are quickly clarified by Mr. Simpson with his physics equipment. These Einsteins are now at least acquainted with such phenomena as resonance, beats, and sympathetic vibrations.

Maps, Reports, Stamps, Make Languages Live

"FRENCH IS FUN" agree Miss Rather's students as she points out places of beauty and of historical importance to bright French IV's.

SMALL INFORMAL GROUPS in Miss Wilson's English class discuss books they have read. Gloria leads a group in this novel method of book reporting.

"AQUA ESTA" says Avron pointing to a stamp from a Spanish-speaking country, as Miss Watkins' class looks over their interesting stamp collection. Corresponding in Spanish is not easy but it brings lasting friendships.

When Their Work Is Done

All work and no play makes teachers, too, dull boys and girls. With more spending money from the sales tax they should be able to worry less and play more. Central's teachers live actively outside school walls.

At right: Miss Green has spent her last six vacations in the Virginia mountains doing scientific research on plant cancer. For this valuable work the University of Virginia awarded Miss Green her Master of Arts degree in Biology.

MACHINE age in action.

METAL SHOP—Students work with wrought iron, art metals, electricity, and foundry equipment. More than making attractive objects of wrought iron, students learn to appreciate materials and to gain skill in the use of tools • MECHANICAL DRAWING—An idea becomes a sketch; the sketch evolves into a clear drawing. To learn to do this beginners draw simple tools and structures, later complicated machines and modern buildings. This year foundry equipment and drawing desks have been acquired.

DESIGNS for the future.

RADIO SHOP—Mr. Branyan is constantly adding army surplus electronic equipment to his already ample stock pile. Ingenious pupils take this equipment apart and remake it into machines which better serve their purpose. First-year students learn fundamentals of radio, build simple transmitters, amplifiers, and radios; second-year boys specialize in radio servicing or transmitting. This year forty second-year students took the F. C. C.'s Commercial Amateur Operator's Exam.

RHEOSTATS, ohms, condensers—all these and other radio terms are explained by Mr. Branyan.

PEOPLE

1949's Prettiest, Jeanne Satterfield; Best All-round, Bill Leftwich and Peggy Moran; Handsomest, Robert Droke.

1849—Girls in hoop skirts and pantalettes—boys in knee breeches—they differed from us only in dress. They, too, bragged about their town. Hadn't Andrew Jackson been one of the founders (1819)! A well planned village too, with FOUR squares and a spacious Promenade along the summit of the bluff. EVERY street gravelled—a new PLANK road all the way to Germantown—buildings FIVE stories high—progress! Home port for 30 steamboats—stage coach and railroad center—gateway to the West—she was rivaling Chicago. Boundaries: Union, south; Bayou Gayoso (near Fourth), east; Wolf River, north; population 7946.

REGISTRATION DAY—They are now a part of Central!

Freshmen Soon To Know Routine of Senior Hi

INNUMERABLE FORMS AND RECORDS—Some afford pleasure; others bring woe.

Sweating the Line

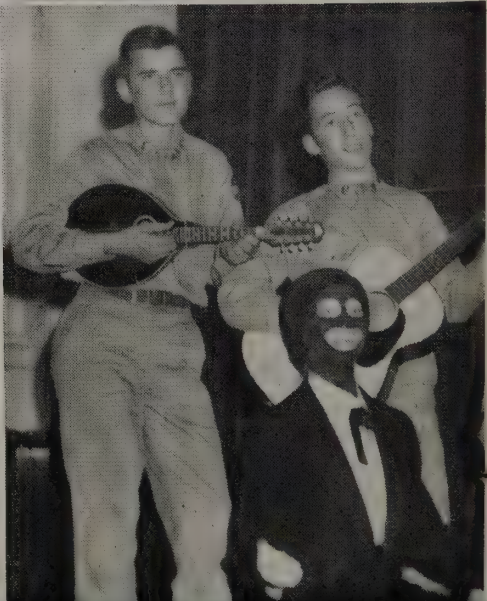

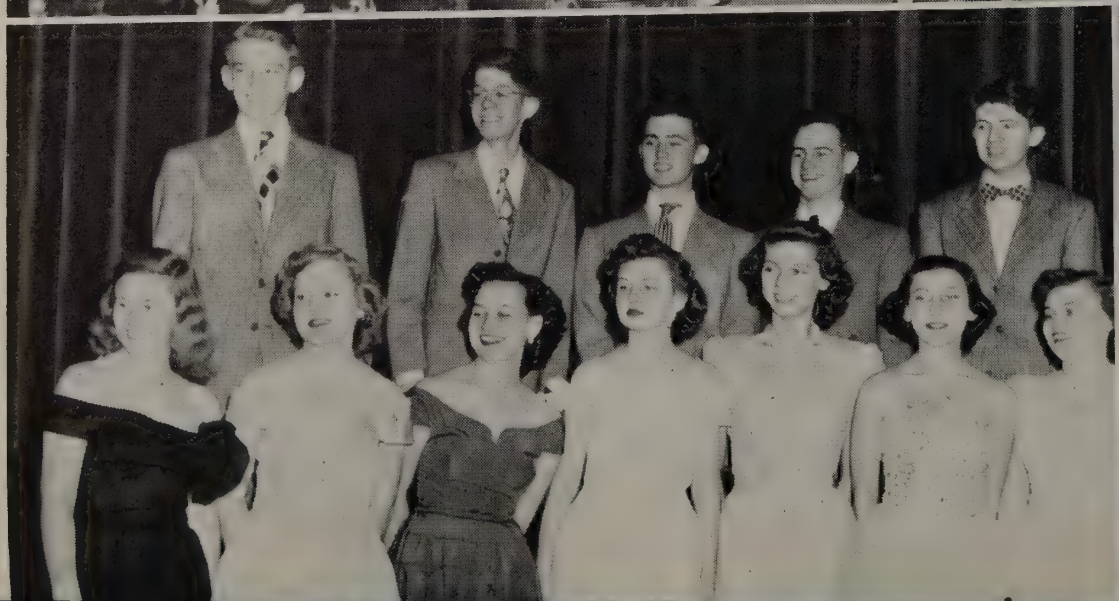

FIRST COMES the pleasant renewal of friendships, news of the summer months; then registration. The ringing of the bell is similar to the crack of the pistol at a track meet, as the race for favorite teachers begins. After "sweating the line" for hours the blow comes, "Sorry, class is filled."

Books for Sale

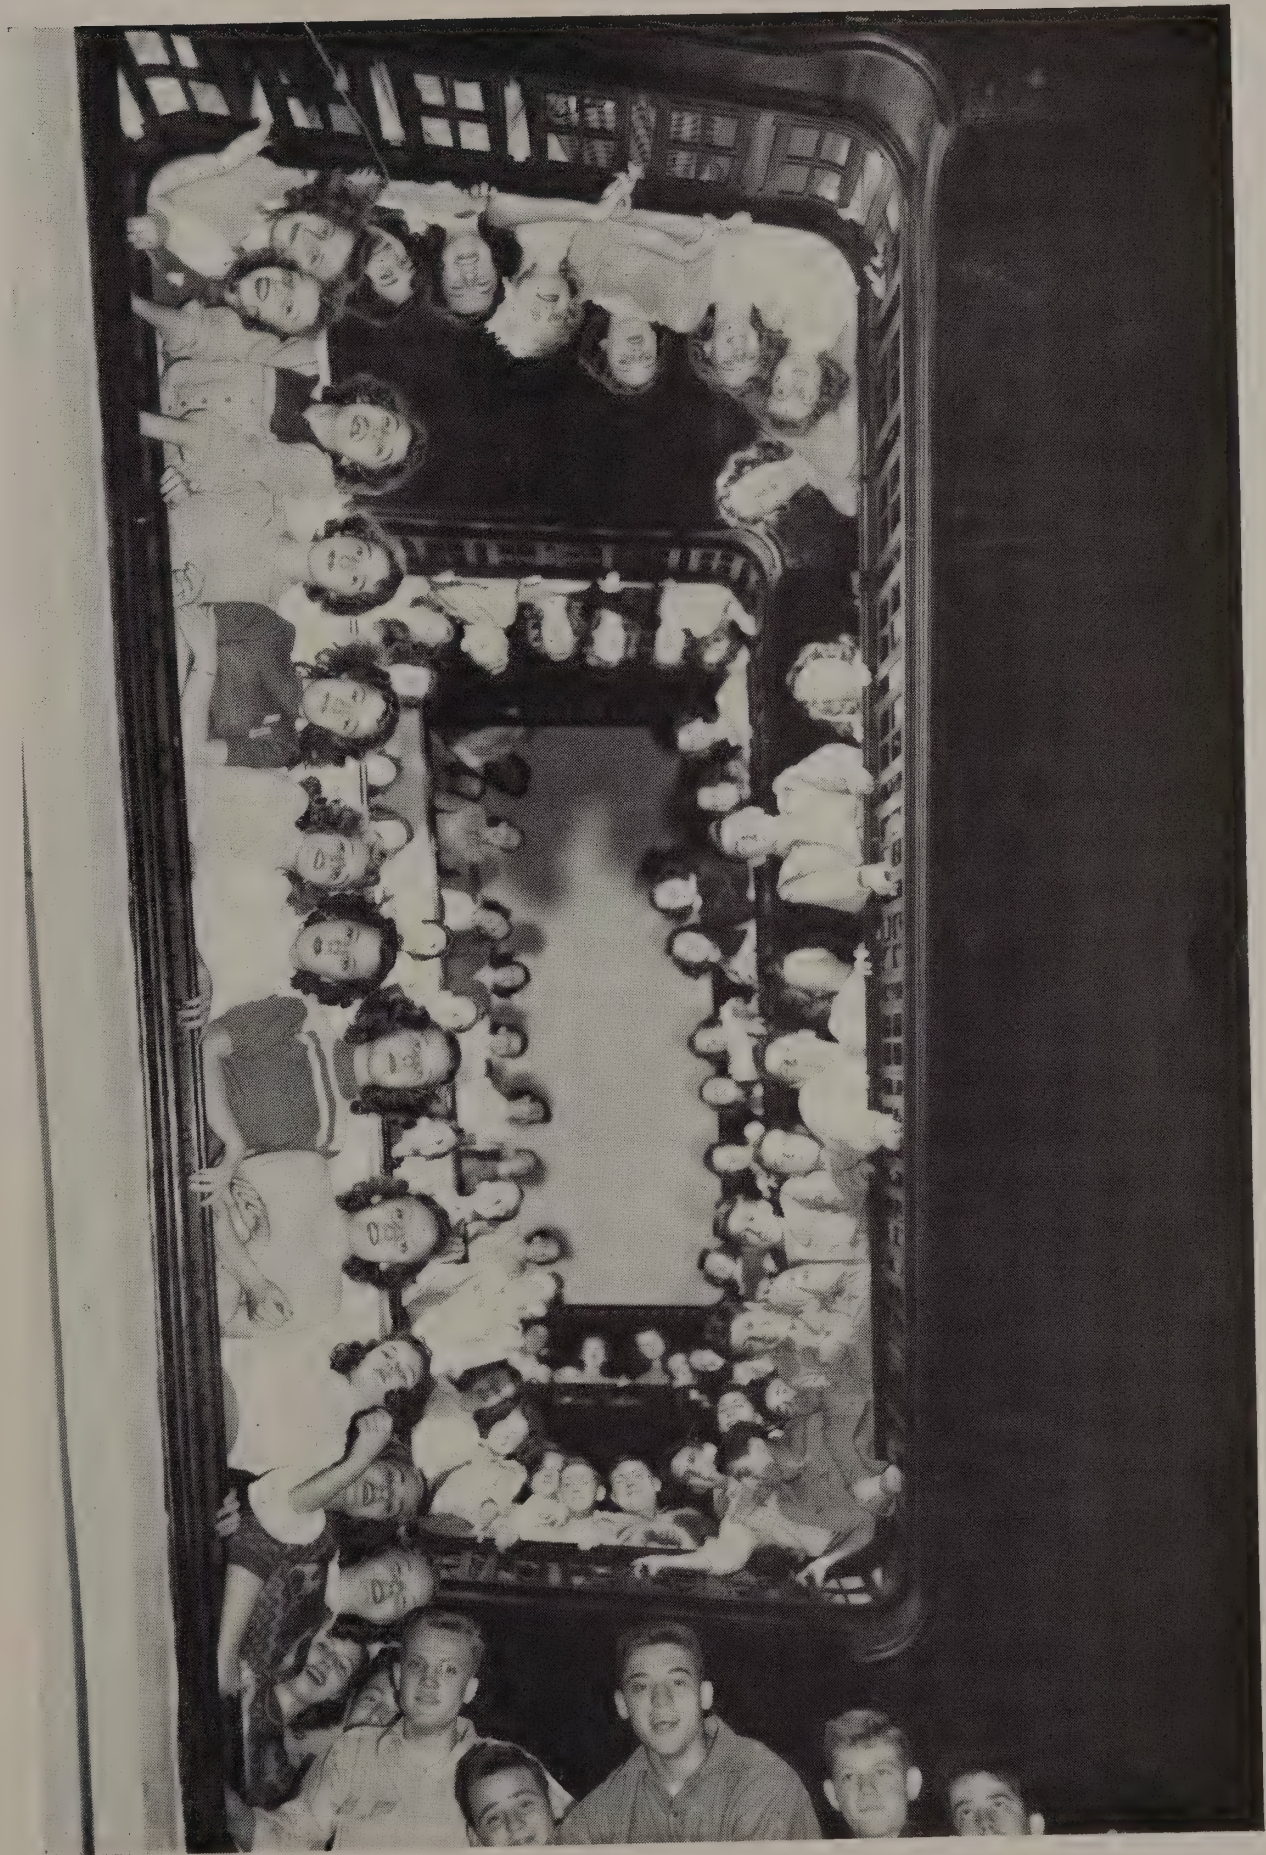

THIS YEAR under the direction of Miss Pressly the library was converted into a book store, and with the aid of student helpers thousands of textbooks passed over the counter into the hands of eager (?) buyers. In a week's time over $3,500 worth of books were sold. Education is an expensive thing.

Auditorium Assemblies—Never A Dull Moment

FROM ROOF-RAISING pep meetings to the pin drop silence of the Classical Music Program, assemblies vary in tempo. New students are introduced to Central's traditions at Freshmen Ice-breakers. Weekly pep meetings urge, "Warriors up on your toes." High light of the year is the Classical Music Program given by talented musicians. Amateur Hour brings out prize winning "Al Jolson" and Roy Acuffs."

Determined Freshmen Put Over 'Swell' Dance

HIGHLIGHT OF FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES for the year was their dance of Oak Park Y. Centralites frolicked to the tunes of Willy Johnson's orchestra, dined on Keathley pies, and were entertained by a variety show featuring Charles Rich, Otis Smith, and Jack Casky. The Oak Park Y, scene of the festive occasion, was decorated with balloons and green and gold streamers. For a time it looked as if there might not be a dance at all—anyhow not with a real live orchestra. A deadline had to be met with $95.00. Not only did these financial tycoons do that, but they made a profit of $27 which the Juniors borrowed.

Who said the Freshmen could not get up their party?

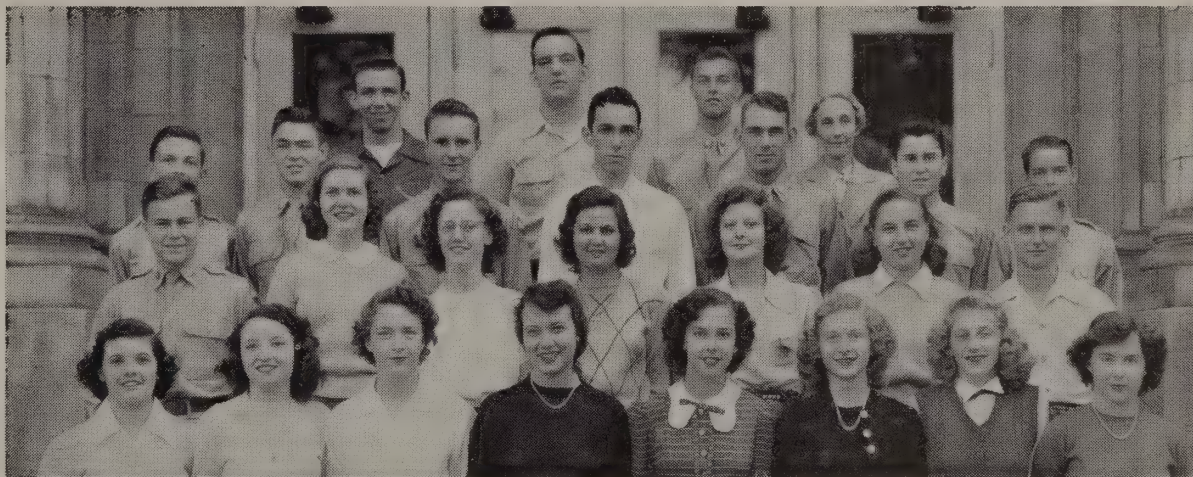

Class of '50, First to Wear Standard Rings

HISTORY WAS MADE when the Ring Committee, after weeks of investigating designs submitted by ring manufacturers chose the standard Central High School ring. Upon entering the junior class, students will be eligible to order their rings. This change is in line with all leading schools, colleges and organizations—they all have standard rings.

Look How Easy
BRUCE Makes My Floor Cleaning!

Bruce Doozit
and Bruce Floor Cleaner
wax as you clean...
standing up!

1 Put a small amount of wax on the floor. Spread it with the Bruce Doozit... with its special Pad to the floor... with its special Pad to the floor... with its special Pad to the floor...

2 Drop a dash under the Doozit Pad and when you lift, leaving the floor surface thoroughly clean, ready for polishing.

3 Replace the new Doozit Pad with a dry one next month. The new dip wax left by Bruce Floor Cleaner polishes quickly.

World's Largest Maker of Hardwood Floors

When It Comes to Home Work Mother's Text is LIFE Magazine

Dancing won't hurt our floors . . . Mother's always glad to have the gang over. She says it's so easy to clean and wax with the Bruce Doozit and Bruce Floor Cleaner that it's no trouble to get floors shining again after a party. Ever since she saw the first Bruce ad in LIFE she's really been sold on Bruce floor products.

STAFF . . . ADVISOR . . . ENGRAVER . . . PRINTER

COORDINATED EFFORTS by many minds and hands are necessary for year-book production. The staff, the faculty advisor, the photographer, the engraver, the manufacturer of the covers—all make vital contributions.

WITH THE PRINTER, however, rests the final responsibility; his skill spells the difference between a shoddy product and a beautiful yearbook which will be proudly shown and treasured by the graduate for years to come.

THE WARRIOR deserves—and receives—our best efforts. Over the years, successive editions of your yearbook have reflected our ability; we believe the 1949 issue surpasses the high standards set in the past.
